Read the passage below then answer the question :

Once upon a time, the monkey and fox were great friends. However the monkey was very hardworking while the fox was lazy. The monkey would go out to search for food while the fox slept. The monkey was very kind and would share the food with his friend. Since he had a lot of food, the monkey did not mind. After some time, a drought occurred and there was no rain. The animals had no food to eat. The two friends objected to go out to look for food but there wasn't any. It took a long time before the fox saw a beehive hanging from a tree. "Monkey my friend, please climb and check if that beehive has some honey in it then we can eat it," said the fox. .

On climbing the tree, the monkey found some honey combs in the hive and told the fox to put them in a sack as he dropped them from the tree. The fox being very hungry decided to use his mouth to eat all the honey combs. When monkey came down he was shocked to find an empty sack. When our scout patron, Mr. Gitahi announced a four-day scouts camp at the famous hippo campsite in Naivasha, my heart skipped a beat. I knew very well that I would not miss such a trip because I was an active member of the scout and headed the Simba troupe.

I jumped up and down in excitement, I was sure of spending my Easter holiday away from home. My parents received the news about the trip in a happy mood. They had earlier promised to pay me a treat if I did well in school now that I had passed well in my exam, it was no doubt that I'd attend the camp.

The trip would take place on the following Tuesday so I had only three days to prepare. On that day, I woke up at the crack of dawn and got myself ready for the trip. I bid my siblings and parents goodbye as Muli, our driver, drove me to school. In a few minutes time, the school buses were full and we left the school shortly after a prayer from the leader of Kifaru troupe. Members of Chui group led the way as their bus took off first.

On the way, we sang songs and cracked jokes. Our patron and tour guides showed us different physical features on the way. Some of us had never seen hills, forests, rivers, and escarpments. The trip was of great value to us. We had carried sleeping bags because we would sleep in tents.

Athletics is a well Known area that pupils should start enjoying even in their toddler age. Some of the activities in athletics include racing. Most people have fun in racing though a few are talented.

The athletes in racing line up in their lanes as they await the starter to start the race. No one is supposed to start before the others.

Some races involve using batons where the runners exchange the batons. These are called relays. They are very interesting. No athlete should start running before the baton is handed to him and it should not be dropped.

The winners are awarded prizes as their teams cheer in excitement. Would you like to win a gold medal? Then start practicing simple athletic activities during your sports day.

Sophie's family moved to another town at the end of the year, after her father was transferred. So she had to join a new school. She did not know anyone in her new environment and greatly missed her old friends. She was very lonely. "Can I go back to my old school?" Sophie asked her mother one evening. It's very far from this town. "Don't you like your new school?" her mother asked her. She told her that she would soon make new friends. Be patient child. "You should also write to your old friends. I will post the letters" her father said. She had never written a letter before maybe it was time to learn.

Sophie wanted to make new friends. She did not want to be alone again when others went to play. She wanted friends to walk home together with. She also wanted to invite them to her birthday party.

The next day as she entered class, Sophie saw the girl in front of her drop her pencil, she picked it up and gave her. "You are the new girl," the girl said taking the pencil. "Yes and my name is Sophie." The girl said her name was Sandra and invited her to play with them during break time. At break time Sophie met other friends from other classes.

One day lion was ill. He could not go to hunt for food. He felt that he was going to die. Lion thought of a plan. He sent word to all the animals that he was very ill. He invited them to come and visit him one by one. A number of people had gone to visit him one day. A number of animals had also got to visit and it was hare's turn. As the hare walked towards lion's den, he noticed a strange thing. All foot prints pointed towards the same direction to lion's house.

Hare was suspicious but he walked on and knocked at lion's door. "Please come in," said lion in a very low voice. Hare knew lion wanted to eat him. "I am sorry you are sick. But excuse me why is it that all footprints of all animals that come to see you point in one direction?"

Before I tell you anything else I better tell you about me. My name is Lizz or Elizabeth and I'll be turning eleven on my next birthday. Aunt Jane calls me her 'China doll' on account of my pale skin and straight hair. I am small for my feeble and fragile which I am not. I don't talk much so they think I'm unfriendly which I'm not. I just get better with myself than anyone else that's all.

Around me at home there's my family, first there's my father who's a farmer. Father treats me like a boy. I think he always wanted me to be a boy really. Then there's mother who is always busy. If she's not on the farm she is scurrying about the house or a pile of dirty sashing.

She does not seem to have time to talk to me much these days since little jimmy was born about eight months ago. I spend a lot of time looking after him. He loves to pull my hair out by the roots or to rear off my ears whenever he can. He doesn't do that to my grandmother who is nearly eighty now.

A lot has been said about the importance of seeing a doctor when we are ill. This is because there are many things that we may not understand about our bodies. For example germs. These are very small living things that can make a person ill. When a person becomes ill, they lose appetite. The body becomes weaker and weaker and they can easily get other diseases.

If one gets HIV, the virus that causes AIDS, their white blood cells are destroyed. The white blood cells are very important to the body because they help to fight diseases.

When most of our white blood cells are destroyed, one can easily get infected with diseases such as tuberculosis and pneumonia. One may have a cough that persists for a long time. One may have other symptoms like lack of appetite, diarrhoea and loss of weight.

It is important for people to go to the hospital any time, they feel unwell. At the hospital, the doctors often check your body temperature and heartbeat. They may also take a specimen of your blood which is examined using a special machine. The result of the tests helps the doctors to know the illness a patient is suffering from. They are able to give the patient the right treatment.

Sometimes if patients take too long before they see a doctor, they may be too ill for the doctor to save their lives. That is why everyone is advised to go to the hospital and get a doctor's advice instead of treating themselves.

31. Why should we see a doctor when we are ill?

- A. To be given medicine
- B. To be tested
- C. Because there are many things about our bodies that we may not understand

There once lived a giraffe and a fox in a park. They were very good friends. Whenever they had time, they used to sit under a tree near the stream and passed time happily, by talking different things.

One day when the fox was roamin he saw nice grapes in the farm on the other side of the stream. When crossing the stream, the giraffe agreed to take him on his back. The giraffe and the fox entered the farm and started ealing grapes.

The owner of the farm saw them and came with a stick. On seeing this, the fox ran out of the farm through a hole in the fence and waited for the giraffe near the stream. The owner of the farm beat the giraffe until he broke the stick. The giraffe ran out of the farm and joined the fox at the stream where they crossed to the other side together.
